

LavenderDreamstoo.blogspot.com

I was so excited to see 'Rumpelstiltskin' performed by the extremely talented Jerry Bickel, the founder of the Bits 'N Pieces Puppet Theatre.

He really made the puppets come alive with the music and voices he used for each one. I wish I could tell you how cute the dog was and how funny he did the voice of the baby.

So much detail in every doll!

The dog was my favorite...I think!

And lots of action!

Everyone enjoyed it!

He took his time after the show to talk about the beautiful dolls they use and explained about the process of putting on a show.

Then he met the kids and gave each of them a little kit to make some puppets at home. (Oh, and he gave me one too! I think I was the only adult there without a child.)

But you know fairy tales aren't just for children!
He even said that in his introduction!

Thanks to the Friends of the Library for bringing this fabulous show to our library. And a special thanks to Jerry Bickel! Hope you'll come back soon. We would LOVE to see the giant puppets you've created!

I'm thankful to live close to such a wonderful public library so....

I'm joining Thankful Thursdays.

Posted by ~Lavender Dreamer~ at 8:13 AM 25 comments:

Labels: Amazing Sites, Florida, Fun, Library

For Information about presenting Bits N Pieces Puppet Theatre
Please Contact:

Jerry Bickel
Bits N Pieces Puppet Theatre
813-659-0659
jerry@puppetworld.com

On Tour Now-
The Selfish Giant's Garden
Hansel and Gretel
The Gingerbread Man
Little Red Riding Hood